Project Fatherhood

Soboba Tribal Family Services and the Cultural Center are proud to announce the Fatherhood Project, a holistic family wellness program aimed at increasing the skills of Native fathers. The objective of this program is to help fathers of all ages understand the sacred role they play in taking care of their children.

When Native people truly understand the past it motivates and inspires them to work toward a better future built on a strong family foundation.

Please join us on Thursday, September 25th at the Soboba Tribal Hall where our Fathers will be making and selling Indian Tacos. Please join us in supporting this worthy cause.

For more information, please contact Donnie Salcedo, Case Manager for Soboba Tribal Family Services at (951) 487-0283 or email at dsalcedo@soboba-nsn.gov

Ten Ways To Be A Better Dad

What's Happening

Children need both parents. Involved fathers can help children lead lives that are happier, healthier, and more successful than children whose fathers are absent or uninvolved. Fathers who spend time with their children increase the chances that their children will succeed in school, have fewer behavior problems, and experience better self-esteem and well-being.

What You Can Do

- 1. Respect your children's mother. When children see their parents respecting each other, they are more likely to feel that they are also accepted and respected.
- 2. Spend time with your children. If you always seem too busy for your children, they will feel neglected no matter what you say. Set aside time to spend with your children.
- 3. Earn the right to be heard. Begin talking with your kids when they are very young, and talk to them about all kinds of things. Listen to their ideas and problems.
- 4. Discipline with love. All children need guidance and discipline, not as punishment, but to set reasonable limits and help children learn from natural or logical consequences. Fathers who discipline in a calm, fair, and nonviolent manner show their love
- 5. Be a role model. Fathers are role models whether they realize it or not. A girl with a loving father grows up knowing she deserves to be treated with respect. Fathers can teach sons what is important in life by demonstrating honesty, humility, and responsibility.
- 6. Be a teacher. A father who teaches his children about right and wrong and encourages them to do their best will see his children make good choices. Involved fathers use everyday examples to teach the basic lessons of life.
- 7. Eat together as a family. Sharing a meal together can be an important part of healthy family life. It gives children the chance to talk about what they are doing, and it is a good time for fathers to listen and give advice.
- 8. Read to your children. Begin reading to your children when they are very young. Instilling a love for reading is one of the best ways to ensure they will have a lifetime of personal and career growth.
- 9. Show affection. Children need the security that comes from knowing they are wanted, accepted and loved by their family. Showing affection every day is the best way to let your children know that you love them.
- 10. Realize that a father's job is never done. Even after children are grown and leave home, they will still look to their fathers for wisdom and advice. Fatherhood lasts a lifetime.

Los Angeles Dodgers to Host Native American Heritage Day

LOS ANGELES –Please help us and save the date for American Indian Appreciation Day with the Los Angeles Dodgers September 28, 2014. The Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission is seeking sponsorships to send low income families to a professional baseball game.

"This is not a fundraiser. As we have for the past years, we are asking for donations so we can provide tickets to low income families primarily identified through the Tribal TANF program or through ICWA." said Ronald Andrade, director of the Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission.

The Commission is seeking to raise enough funds to purchase 500 tickets at a reduced rate.

This will be the last game of the year in what looks to be a championship year. This game will be Dodgers versus the Colorado Rockies.

The Kids will be able to "run the bases" after the game.

At present our ticket prices are:

Reserve MVP	$28
Infield Reserve	$24
Preferred Reserve	$20

All contributions are tax deductible.

For more information please contact:
